

10 QHN NETWORKING TIPS

WANT TO BE NETWORKED IN THE NETWORK

HERE ARE 10 THINGS YOU CAN DO TO GET THE MOST OUT OF YOUR QHN MEMBERSHIP!

1. QHN Quality Connections: Subscribe to QHN's monthly electronic newsletter and share with your colleagues. A great way to stay connected and learn what's going on in quality improvement.
2. QHN Member Profile: Share your story with us and let us profile your improvement tale on the QHN website. An excellent opportunity for you to showcase your work and get feedback from your peers.
3. QHN Faculty: Become a QHN faculty and share your expertise. QHN works with leading edge improvers to build workshops, courses and conferences that are designed to elevate system performance. Be inspired, while inspiring others.
4. QHN Networking Conferences: Be sure to attend Spring Symposium (May 27-28, 2009) and Fall Forum (October 28-30, 2009). You are guaranteed to meet someone new or someone old that has a new way of looking at things.
5. QHN Community Animation: Take advantage of QHN's informal, but purposeful networking sessions at QHN events.
6. QHN Website: Go to the QHN website often to find useful information and get immediate access to members through email links. Imagine if you could always find what you needed in just one or two emails. If you are well networked, you probably can.
7. QHN Workshops and Open Houses: Attend a QHN led workshop or Open Houses to cultivate those relationships that you have made.
8. QHN Listserv: Join the QHN listserv and share your improvement knowledge. Generosity not only feels good, but it helps to grow that larger sense of community.
9. QHN Volunteers: Volunteer to work the registration table at the next QHN event. You'll be able to meet everyone who comes in and match their name with their face. Volunteer to be on a QHN planning committee or advisory panel.
10. QHN Twitter: Follow QHN's twitter at <http://twitter.com/QHN>.
