

EFW RADIOLOGY

LEAD ONE OF ALBERTA'S TOP RADIOLOGY CLINICS

Chief Operating Officer

With your leadership experience in the implementation of best practices, performance metrics and capacity building, you will see the untapped potential of this very successful Calgary company. Founded in 1969 to serve the Foothills Medical Centre, EFW Radiology has added nine state-of-the-art locations and now performs more than 600,000 imaging studies, interventional procedures and consultations annually. The quality of its work is truly world class, which is a reflection of the organization's outstanding people and their commitment to client care. Owned by a group of 45 physicians/partners, EFW is seeking an operational executive with the strategic acuity and consensus leadership skills to guide the company as it grows to meet an increasing demand for diagnostic services.

As Chief Operating Officer, you will oversee a highly respected team of Radiologists, Perinatologists, technologists and support staff. Your mission is to evolve better processes, training and tools to support the growth of the business. In this front and centre role, you will become EFW's principal relationship developer with an external stakeholder population that includes referring physicians, Alberta Health Services, local communities and the University of Calgary Medical School. Reporting to the Management Committee ownership group, you will draft and crystallize a strategic business plan that consolidates and expands EFW's leadership position in radiology services. Take a well run and well respected operation and make it even more responsive to the marketplace.

Likely an MBA or MHA, you have proven leadership in a healthcare, not-for-profit or professional services organization. Accomplished at working with a Board, you understand how to present a vision and garner support for its implementation. With EFW, you will have the opportunity to lead a company that is already a pacesetter, and take it to new heights.
